HAPPINESS IS 4-H

By Frank H. Sweet
Extension Agent

Last week's Five County Fair was a big success for Appomattox young people. Many 4-H, FFA and FHA members entered exhibits at the Fair and many of these were winners.

Of the 52 head of cattle shown at the Fair, over 30 were from Appomattox County. All of the entries in the swine classes came from Appomattox. 4-H'ers participating in the Five County Fair livestock shows were: Kelly Neville, Patty Harris, Charlotte Moore, Larry Harris, Glen McClenny, Kenneth McClenny, Jilly Noble, Barry Watkins, and Michael Phelps.

Jill had the champion angus heifer while Glen had the reserve champion. Kelly Neville had the champion Jersey calf at the Fair.

We congratulate all the 4-H'ers who took part in this year's Five County Fair.

Three 4-H Clubs entered educational exhibits at the Fair. They were Falling River, Evergreen, and the Teen Leader Club--all of which received blue awards. Congratulations to the members and leaders who prepared these exhibits.

The Appomattox 4-H Teen Leader Club will be selling ham biscuits during the weekend Railroad Festival. Make it a point to stop by their booth and support this organization.

Mary Dyess and Cheryl Walton who are members of the State 4-H Meats Team had a real valuable work session at Shen Valley Meat Packers near Timberville this past Saturday. Helping with the workshop was Dr. Bob Kelly, Professor at VPI&SU and nationally recognized meats expert. Mary and Cheryl will travel to Kansas City in early November to compete in the National 4-H Meats Contest.

Five Appomattox 4-H'ers (Patty Harris, Luann Crain, Charlotte Moore, Dana Cox and Dana White) will be participating in the State 4-H Dog Show. This event will be held tomorrow (Friday) at the State Fairgrounds in Richmond.

Wendy MacIntosh will be participating in the Purebred Angus Show at the State Fair also.

4-H meetings at Appomattox Elementary School have begun this week. Enrollment of members and election of officers were the two most important accomplish m e n t s. Congratulations to those newly elected 4-H officers.

The American Cancer Society's Bike-a-thon will be held Sunday afternoon, October 15. The 10-mile ride to raise funds for the American Cancer Society is an important community service project for many 4-H'ers. Pledge sheets are available from the Extension Office or Travelers Inn Motel.

Local workers stated that they have met with the company's negotiator in hopes of working out the problems and returning to work as soon as possible; they have met with little, if any, cooperation.

Although contractors have been called in to do the work usually performed by striking workers, it has been discovered that the work does not meet REA specifications, according to Cooperative workmen.

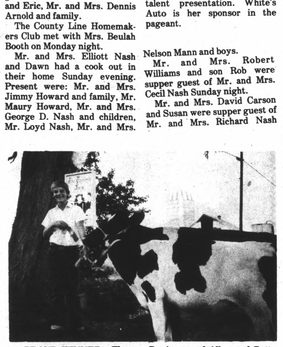
"It is the consumers' money," stated a local striking worker, "that is being used to pay the negotiator and we feel that the lack of cooperation on the part of the company negotiator is unfair, not only to workers but to the consumer as well."

Local striking workers stated, "We have no life insurance, no hospitalization; we still have bills to pay, food to buy and children to educate."

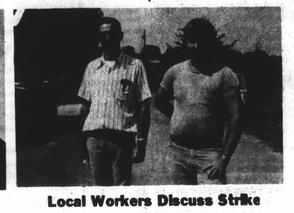
Miss Merry Wright

Miss Appomattox Contestant

(Correction) - Miss Merry Wright is the eighteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wright. Merry is a freshman at Virginia Intermont College in Bristol, Virginia. She plans to receive a B.A. degree in Fashion Merchandising. She would like to work with a large company and perhaps own her own shop some day. Merry will be playing the piano for her talent presentation. White's Auto is her sponsor in the pageant.



PROUD WINNER - Thomas Davis, son of Allen and Betty Torrence of Route 2, Appomattox, proudly displays ribbons won with his holstein heifer entries in the 1978 Farmville Five County held last week. Davis placed first in his class with the intermediate calf and first with the Junior Yearling. He also placed 3rd in the Senior Division Showmanship competition. These two fine animals were purchased from the dairy farm of Abbott Coleman and Arthur Morris. Handling and showing cattle is part of the instruction provided through the Vocational Agriculture Program at A.C.H.S. Thomas is a member of the Appomattox Senior FFA Chapter where he is enrolled in the Agricultural Science and Mechanics course taught by Mr. Abert Carter. Work experience in dairying is provided by employment at "The Torrence Farm" owned and operated by Mr. Elliott Torrence and son.



Local Workers Discuss Strike

On Monday, September 11, 1978, workers of the Central Virginia Electric Cooperative went out on strike and the issue is not primarily money, despite the opinion of many.

Central Virginia Electric Cooperative provides electricity and maintenance to some 15,000 customers. Employees do "have a bone to pick" so to speak, according to local workers of cooperative; the grievances are: the guarantee of a forty-hour week; first day of sick leave; and guaranteed 2 hours for call-outs after normal working hours.

THE GOSPELAIRES, "Presenting the Gospel Wrapped In Song", will appear at the Union Baptist Church, Toga, in Buckingham County, on September 22rd, at 7:30 p.m. The public is coridally invited to attend.

MRS. JAMES FREDERICK ARMSTRONG
the former Miss Vicky Ellen Howard

Wed In Afternoon Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Vicky Ellen Howard, of Lynchburg, Va. and James Frederick Armstrong of Churchville, Va. took place at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, September 16, at Chestnut Hill Baptist Church in Lynchburg, with the Reverend Dennis W. Knight of Richmond officiating, and the Reverend Paul Blevins of Lynchburg, assisting in the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Howard of Lynchburg, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Armstrong of Churchville, Virginia. The late afternoon ceremony took place amid candlelight. The sanctuary was decorated with palms, and with candlesbras entwined with yellow roses, white mums, and blue delphiniums.

A selection of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. J. Franklin Vaughan, organist, of Appomattox, Virginia, who accompanied soloist Mr. Dwain Gregory of Annandale, Virginia. Two soloists who provided additional accompaniment with guitars were Mr. Scott Collier of Charlottesville, Virginia, and Miss Lynette Hundley of Richmond, Virginia.

The bride was escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents. The bride wore a traditional floor-length gown, which she and her mother made, with a skirt of white flambe satin and silk organza, and a bodice of Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. The silk organza sleeves were appliqued with Chantilly lace also. The bride's finger-tip length veil was edged with Venenese lace, and had a seed-pearl tiara.

The bride's cascading bouquet was of white, peach, and yellow roses, blue-tinted daises, and white carnations, surrounded by baby's breath. In the center of the bouquet were arranged pieces of scalloped lace from the bride's gown. The bride also carried her maternal grandmother's white Bible, with her paternal great-grandmother's ivory linen handkerchief tucked inside.

The flower girl was Miss Kimberly Luken of Lynchburg, who wore a floor-length gown of yellow crepe satin and chiffon. The ringbearer was Master James Martin Howard, brother of the bride, who wore a light blue tuxedo, carrying the rings on a pillow made by the bride's mother.

The bride's Maid of Honor was Miss Cynthia Lea Howard of Lynchburg, sister of the bride, who wore a peach colored, floor-length gown of crepe satin and chiffon, and carried a nosegay of peach rosebuds, white carnations and blue daisies, surrounded by baby's breath. The Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Hodges of Lynchburg, the bride's cousin, Mrs. Thomas Thacker of Churchville and Miss Grace Armstrong, also of Churchville, both sisters of the groom, Miss Donna Blount of Forest, Virginia, and Miss Amy Hutchinson of Syosset, New York. They wore pale yellow floor-length gowns of crepe satin and chiffon, and carried nosegays of yellow rosebuds and blue daises, surrounded by baby's breath.

Mr. Harold W. Armstrong was his son's best man. The groomsmen were Randall Cale of Churchville, Thomas Thacker, also of Churchville, brother-in-law of the groom, David Vanaman of Lynchburg, cousin of the bride, Michael Luken of Lynchburg, and David Noji of Melville, New York, who all wore light blue tuxedos.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length dress of mint green crepe, with ivory trim at the neck and sleeves. The mother of the groom wore a floor length dress of blue quiana with a flora print organza cape.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Neville E. Smoot and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse J. Howard, grandparents of the bride. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Alden Funkhouser, grandparents of the groom.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Miss Clare Diming of Stuart, Virginia kept the guest register. The bride's cake was served by Mrs. Jesse E. Vanaman and Mrs. H. Tazewell Daughtrey, aunts of the bride, both of Lynchburg. The punch was served by Mrs. David Townsend, Miss Joy Canada, both of Lynchburg, and Misses Laura Blackwell and Laura Lyon, both of Richmond.

The bride graduated from E. Hall of Auburn; Tim Day of Smiths, and Charles Smith of Birmingham.

They wore gray afternoon tuxedos.

Andrew and David Drope, both of Phenix City, lit the altar candles.

The bride's mother wore a corsage of pink roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and her parents entertained at a reception at the Rankin House.

Karen Renfroe, Auburn, kept the bride's book, and assisting in serving were Terry Nave, Auburn; Terry Cameron, Brenda Deacon and Kay Barr, all of Phenix City; Lynn Sellers, Smiths; Pat Grant, Birmingham, and Janan Garner and Elaine Fabiani, both of Columbus.

The bridal cake was heart-shaped with natural flowers, and the groom's cake was chocolate, with flowers and grapes as decorations.

The bride's going-away outfit was a paisley sundress. She carried a corsage of roses.

After a wedding trip to Santa Bella Island, Fla., the couple will live in Auburn. The groom is a student at Auburn University and the bride is employed at Columbus Bank and Trust Co.

The groom's parents gave a rehearsal party August 26, at their home.

The bridesmaids luncheon was given by Mrs. Vance Dunn and Mrs. Sammy Deason, Saturday, at Green Island

You don't have to be a farmer to get a rural home loan from Farm Credit.

Many of you know Farm Credit lends money for just about anything a farmer needs. But we'll bet you didn't know Farm Credit also lends money to non-farmers too.

If you're interested in buying or building or fixing up a home out in open country, we've got the money you need. At rates big city banks can't touch.

The only limitations are that the property has to be in the country and the total value can't be more than $65,000. Of course, if the land you're looking at covers 8 or more acres, even that money restriction can be lifted.

If you've been talking about a home in the country, now's the time to stop talking and start looking. At the rate it's going today, we can't guarantee this money is going to last very long.

If you want to live in rural America, then we're your kind of people.
